

Word webs

Lots of children need extra help to learn and remember new words.

Our 'word web' game is a great way to teach new words.

Children learn new words best when they know about both the meaning and sound information of a word. Our word web game helps them to think about both of these things.

- Choose a word to use.

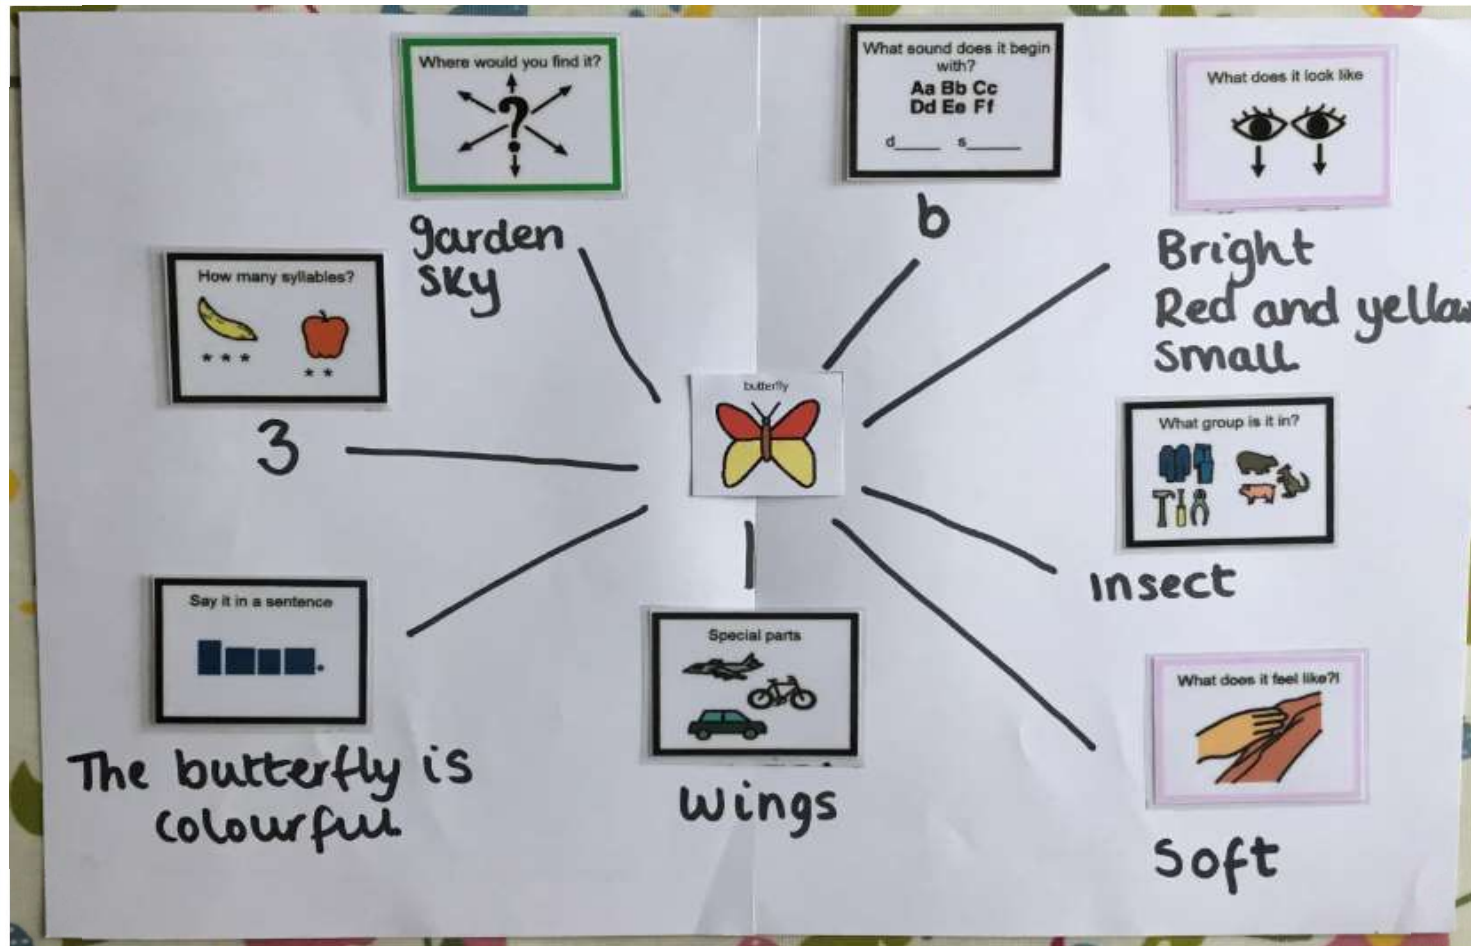

It is helpful to choose a word that your child is learning about at school. For example, a word from their current topic, a word they are using in maths or a word from their spellings. Their teacher can help you choose some helpful words.

- Use the word web questions or put the question cards around the paper.
- Take turns to choose a question to answer. You can answer the same question more than once. For example, if the object is a candle, where you find it: church, a cake, in the bathroom.
- There may be more than one answer to the question.
- You can score points for each answer given. Check who has the most points after 5 questions.

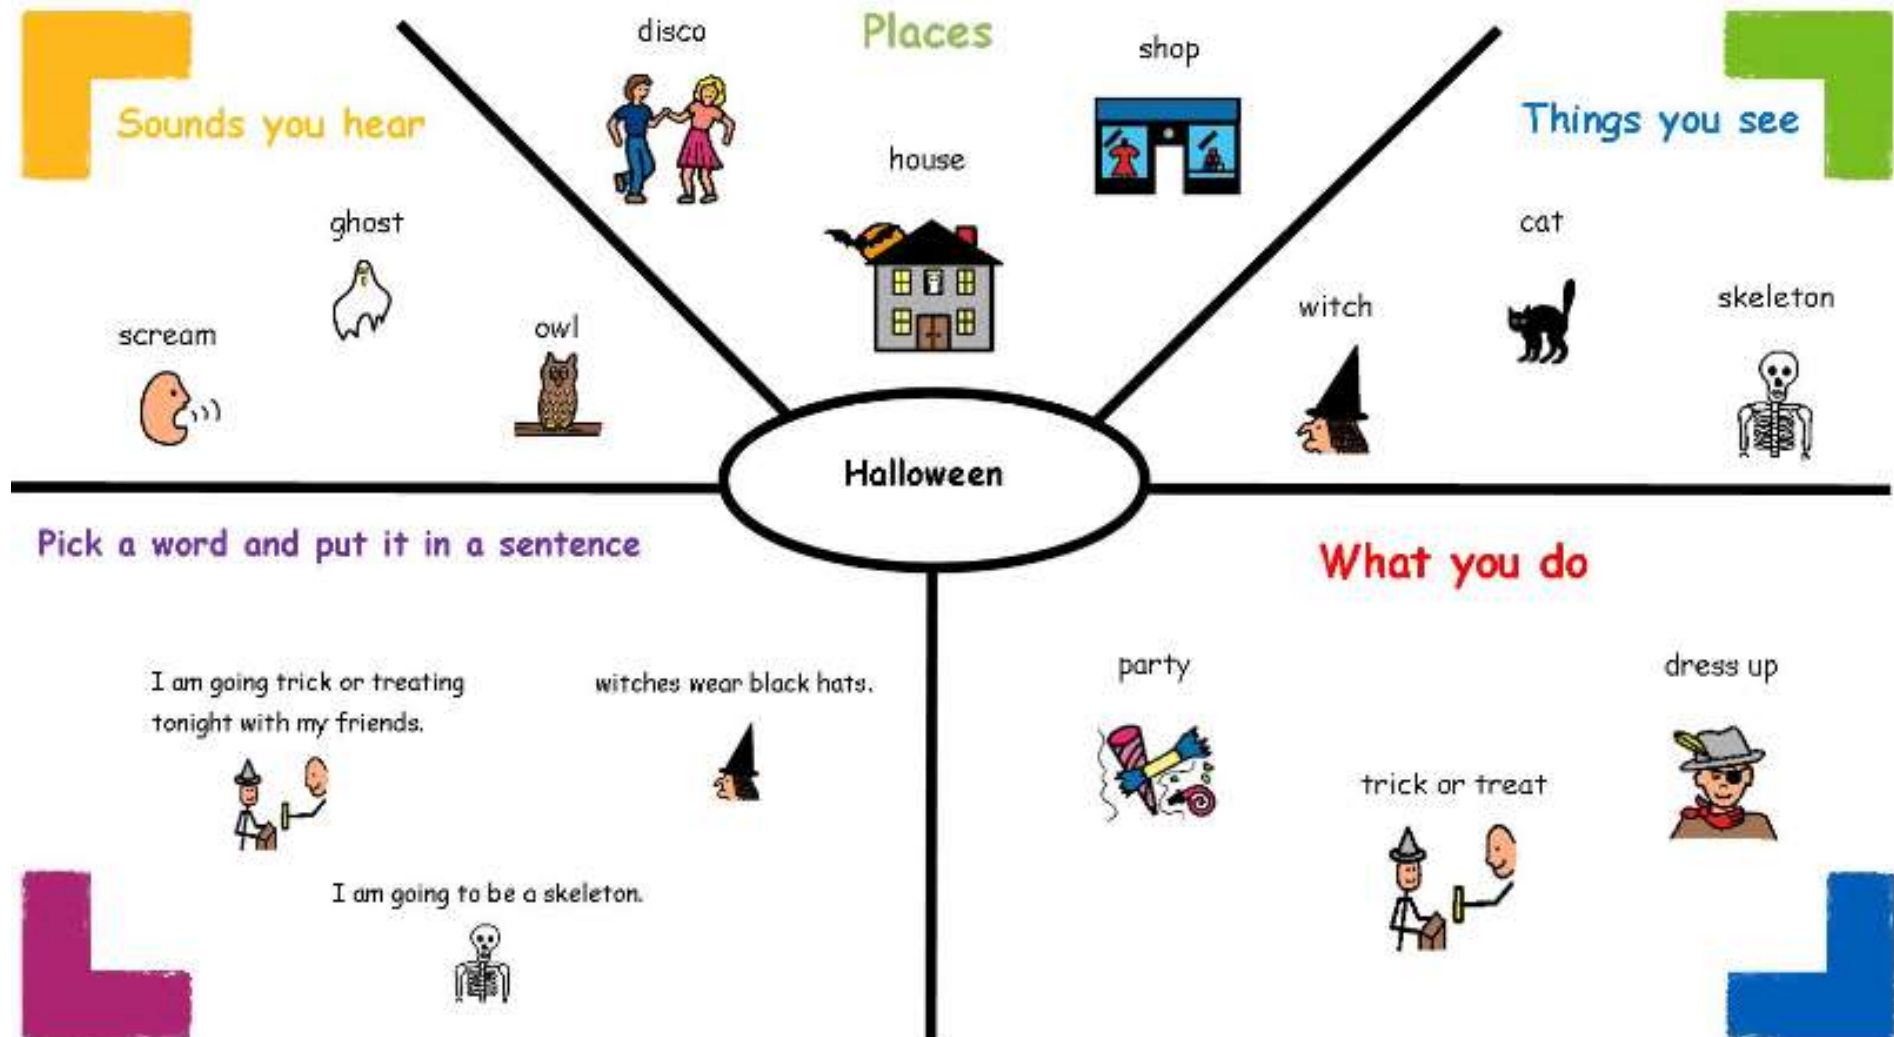

Included in this pack are different examples of word webs and a variety of templates for you to use.

You can find our word web video and more game ideas on our YouTube channel.
